A PUZZLEMENT INDEED

Frederic was to have been apprenticed to a pilot. But his nurse, being hard of hearing, bound him instead to a pirate. Being a "slave of duty," he faithfully became the best pirate he could. But now he turns 21, and free from his indentures falls in love with Major General Stanley's beautiful daughter Mabel. Frederic pledges to exterminate the pirates (though he loves them dearly as brothers), such course now being his duty. But there's a matter of his being born on February 29, and a contract stipulating a twenty-first birthday... The Pirates of Penzance, May 5 through 7, here at Edmund Keefe Auditorium

A collage of memories, from a Munchkin to Tuptim. You were my mentors in them all. From the beginning to the end, I will always remember all you have taught me and the faith you have kept in me. For this and more, I thank you...

ABOUT THE ACTORSINGERS

Our group was started in a church basement in 1955 and incorporated in 1961 as an independent non-profit community theater organization. We are actors and singers, dancers and musicians, creative designers of scenery, costumes and lighting; carpenters, technicians, make-up artists, publicists, ticket takers, and all manner of folks who enjoy working together to create the magic of theater.

We produce two major musicals each year (fall and spring) and additional smaller shows as schedules allow. Our recent summer musical Little Shop of Horrors was a great success, and we won the prize for Best Production in the 1999 New Hampshire Community Theatre Association play competition with our Talking With...

Our staging of musicals involves such expenses as the rental of this school auditorium, royalties and rental fees to the plays' copyright owners, costs of equipment and supplies, etc. etc. etc., and the ongoing expense of maintaining our home at 219 Lake Street. These expenses increase every year, and our ticket sales alone cannot cover them. So we say Thank You to our faithful and generous supporters who make our continuing work possible.

We invite all who are interested in working behind the scenes, performing onstage, or becoming financial supporters to write us at
