NOTES FROM THE DIRECTOR

April 10th, 1912, RMS Titanic set sail on its maiden voyage. When this fateful voyage ended on the night of April 14th, 1912, more than 1,500 souls went to their deaths in the freezing waters of the north Atlantic. Since that time, the name Titanic has become legend. What most of us do not know however, are the individual stories of the people who took this legendary journey. In the writing of this great work, Maury Yeston and Peter Stone have brought to life the "real" characters who traveled on this floating palace.

I was thrilled to be given the opportunity of bringing the show to life at Edmund Keefe Auditorium, and especially thrilled to have my directorial debut with an organization as well-respected as Actorsingers. You won't see any fancy hydraulic sets, or mind-boggling special effects showing the sinking of the great liner on our stage, but what you will see is a passionate piece of theatre, brought to life by over 100 very talented actors, actresses, musicians, and stage crew. It is my hope that for 2½ hours, we will transport you from your everyday lives and introduce you to these wonderful people who sailed aboard "the largest moving object in the world"!

I congratulate and sincerely thank everyone who helped in any way on this production. Theatre truly is a collaborative effort, and this has been a wonderful experience for me. I especially want to thank my "right hand man," Brandon Mallard (my son), who has been an invaluable help to me. I love you!

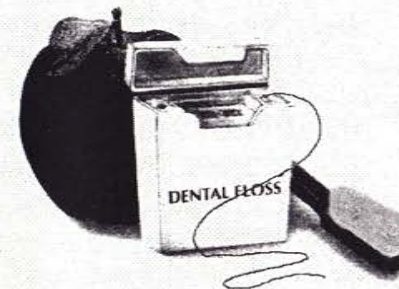

Now relax and enjoy "Titanic the Musical".

Brett Mallard,
Director
