Directors Notes

Sometimes you feel passionate about something.... you aren't exactly sure what's driving you but you push on. That's how I feel about the creative process that happened for me during this production. It all started in my basement with a few friends listening to the soundtrack and then became a very exciting possibility when we obtained the rights to perform this cutting edge show! I never realized that I would actually see it happen. I'm so grateful to the Actorsingers' Board of Directors who listened to an impassioned presentation and saw the potential of bringing something new to the NH theatre audiences.

From there, I found a fantastic production team and a talented, passionate cast. We went to work not knowing what we would end up with. Along the way, it became quite obvious to us that we had something very special, something that would not soon be forgotten.

What you are going to experience tonight is that "something". We have put our collective heart, soul, sweat, and talent into for this production for the past 12 weeks. We are extremely passionate about our show and know you will be thoroughly entertained.

Is this show different? Is this show edgy and full of angst? Will it redeem itself in the end? Yes to all. Enjoy the ride.... it's something unpredictable, but in the end it's right. I hope you had the time of your life!

A Note to the Director

For most of us, the journey of American Idiot began a few short months ago after watching a teaser trailer that left all potential auditionees talking. For you, Donna, the journey began once American Idiot left Broadway. Some of us can recall talking about American Idiot at parties in years past, where your excitement and enthusiasm to bring the show to life was not only apparent, but also infectious. Soon, the possibility of bringing this engaging, dynamic rock musical to the New Hampshire stage had us all buzzing. However, this show could not succeed by passion alone, we needed a strong leader to guide us into making what is good into what is honest. With that, the cast and crew of American Idiot would like to share our thanks to our fearless leader.

Thank you for believing in us when we found it difficult to believe in ourselves. Thank you for pushing us to give our all and invest in our characters, and in each other. Thank you for bearing the brunt of countless obstacles and roadblocks; your willingness to step into the line of fire for a show and team you loved, and to meet those challenges with overwhelming positivity, inspired us to give nothing but our best. Thank you for trusting us to deliver an exceptional performance. We are so proud to be a part of this production. We will always remember this.

From your family of misfit rebel Idiots,

Thank you!

American Idiot Shout Outs

"There are many things in life that you feel you need such as television, magazines, teachers telling you that you have to make money and be successful. But if you have some kind of hope, something to hold on to, then all this won't matter. If you can make your next day better than the previous one, then you will see that's what it really means and not everything that people think you need for your life." Billie Joe

American Idiot Cast

Elliot Robert Owens - ST. JIMMY

Hello fellow Idiots! Usually I post things here about "favorite roles include blah-zay-blah and so-and-so (I played so-and-so twice. The first production was FAR superior)", but not this time. No, I want to use this space to thank you, yes, YOU! Look at you, holding your smartphone to your face in a crowded theater, you sexy rebel. Thank you, sincerely, for supporting new ideas and giving us the opportunity to present this show to you. Thanks also to the cast and crew, it's been an honor to call myself an Idiot, and to Sheree and Sam, making every day brighter.

Sheree Owens - HEATHER

We're actually doing this show! Sheree is honored to be joining the talented, sexy cast and crew of American Idiot after fantasizing about someone having the guts to stage the show since she first heard it. Now stand up, get pumped and get ready to ROCK!

Leah Schwartz - LEAH

Leah is pumped to be in the NH premiere of Green Day's American Idiot! She is returning to the mainstage after choosing to instead pursue her goals as a student, and a career as a tap dancer. She's psyched to be with such an amazing team! She'd like to thank her parents for having her. That was lit! And her best friends for putting up with her busy self. Oh! And listening to Green Day with her whenever she wasn't in rehearsal. Enjoy the show!
