Director's Note

Welcome to Camelot err... I mean Spamalot. Remember what happens in Spamalot stays in Spamalot.

Spamalot is a musical comedy adapted from the 1975 cult classic film Monty Python and the Holy Grail. It tells the legendary tale of King Arthur's quest to find the Holy Grail.

The legend of the Holy Grail is one of the most enduring in Western European literature and art. From the knights of medieval legends to Indiana Jones, the holy grail has been the most sought-after Christian relic in popular culture for centuries. The grail is most commonly identified as the cup that Jesus drank from at the Last Supper. The search for the grail became the holiest of quests. The magical properties attributed to the Holy Grail have been plausibly traced to the magic vessels of Celtic myth that satisfied the tastes and needs of all who ate and drank from them. There is however no evidence that the grail actually existed. It seems clear that the grail is the stuff of Arthurian legend rather than fact.

Historically King Arthur was a legendary British leader in the late 5th and early 6th centuries AD. This show steps in and out of that time period in history both in costume design and with many references to current times. The characters even "break the fourth wall" and talk directly to the audience, typically thought to be a faux pas in a traditional theater performance. My vision for this production is to keep you, our audience, engaged and fully present. You will watch set pieces fly in and out and actors move some set pieces as other actors continue on with the next scene, all intentional to keep you engaged. Enjoy the story and don't take anything too seriously or literal, after all it's Monty Python.

This show diverts from more traditional versions of the legend of King Arthur and Camelot. Throughout the show, Arthur, traveling with his servant Patsy recruit several knights to accompany them on their quest to find the grail, including; Sir Bedevere, Sir Robin, Sir Lancelot and Sir Galahad. In the show King Arthur does not have an actual horse but Patsy pretends to be his horse by banging coconuts to make the sound of horse's hooves. Later in the show you meet Concorde, Sir Lancelot's horse who also uses coconuts to simulate horse's hooves. Along their journey to find the grail they encounter many different people and mythical creatures like; Not Dead Fred, The Lady of the Lake and her Laker Girls, Flatulent French guards, The Knights of Ni who say Ni, The Black Knight, Prince Herbert, Tim the Enchanter and a Killer Rabbit to name a few.

This show holds a special place in my heart because it's the first Actorsingers Main Stage production for both myself and my daughter (Brittney-Lynne, Choreographer). I have directed Brittney-Lynne in several shows since she was a little girl. It's been such a joy to work side by side with her on this production as peers. She has taken my vision for the show to another height, and exceeded my expectations.

In the words of the Lady of the Lake... "Life is really up to you. You must choose what to pursue. Set your mind on what to find, and there's nothing you can't do. So keep right to the end you'll find your goal my friend, you won't fail. Find your grail."

Whatever your "grail" is I hope you find it, in the meantime...
