Break a leg!!

Director's Note

If you loved the movie The Wedding Singer, you will love the musical - same story line and characters, with all-original music stylized like the music we fell in love with in the 80's. It's been an interesting journey with this cast of kids between 13 and 19 who were all born well after the 80's decade. Exploring the music, clothing, hair styles and references together has been a blast. My hope is that our cast will bring back many fun memories for those of you that enjoyed the 80's. I know it has for me; 80's music is now on my Pandora favorites list.

This show holds a special place in my heart because it's the first time I worked with my daughter as a choreographer. I have directed Brittney-Lynne in several shows since she was a little girl. It's been such a joy to work side by side with her on this production as peers. She has taken my vision for the show to another height. I love how she has incorporated so many of the iconic dance moves from the 80's into the choreography. Can't wait for the next show with you baby girl, anytime anywhere.

One of the signature things I do with every cast of kids that I direct is to have them create a costume piece they wear in the show, something they design and can have as a keepsake after the show is done. Check out the canvas sneakers they designed and painted in the opening number of the show.

Sit back, enjoy the show, and let us take you back to the 80's - big hair, loud colors, fun music, and iconic dance moves.

Find Joy In The Journey,
Tim Stanley
