DIRECTOR'S NOTE

Hello everyone & welcome to Frozen JR! Happy to have you! Theater for me is something that is about teamwork. Without these young actors, I wouldn't have a show. I tell these kids all the time that we are a team. I tell my production team we are a team. I love being a team! I adore each and every one of them, and they have given me an opportunity that I wouldn't have been able to have without them. Being able to say I directed a show at 19 is something that melts my heart, and it's something that I will take on with me for the rest of my life. This is a story within a story, because I found another piece of my heart to take along with me in creating this.

The story of Frozen is something that a lot are familiar with, but it brings people together because of what the story stands for. Familial love, sisterhood, and the journey to discovering who you truly are, no matter who that is. And of course an adorable snowman & reindeer. I remember being the kid watching this movie, in the theater, with a huge popcorn bucket and my older sister right next to me, squeezing my hand.

Frozen stands for loving yourself and loving others around you, no matter what happens. Being able to "Let it Go". Let yourself be fascinated with the world around you. Don't let anybody ever tell you that you cannot be yourself. Be passionate. Be inspired by the simple things, like a snowman you build out in the cold. Like the snowflake on the tip of your nose.

To my young actors, the kids, I am so honored to be able to work with all of you. You are incredible, and I am so excited to see what else you guys do! You have all worked so hard, and I have loved being able to see that. I love all of our little jokes and I have been so honored to be able to be a part of the laughs with all my goofballs.

To the parents, Oh. My. Gosh. All of you are incredible. Absolutely incredible, so kind and so thoughtful, and your kids are fantastic too. This is just as much their show as it is yours, and I thank you for that.

To my production team, I am so thankful to work with all of you. You have all put in so much work, and you have all been so incredible. Thank you for being on my team. I appreciate you all.

And for you the audience, I thank you for being here. For spending your time with us in Arendelle, 'For the first time in forever'.

Enjoy the show!
Miss Vanessa
